

Solana Beach, CA Author Publishes Poetry Book

This Book is Filled with Poetry for the Heart, Mind and Soul

ceciliadincetate@mysoul.com: Collection of Poetry, a new book by Cecilia Dincetate, has been released by Dorrance Publishing Co., Inc.

From the author: “I was born in Romania in one of the still inhabited medieval small towns in Europe, Sighisoara. My pen name, “Cecilia Dincetate,” translates to “Cecilia of Citadel.”

“I published three collections of poetry in Romania: Men and Sky, The Lares of the Days, and Trial Soul. In my new, free world I published poems with The International Library of Poetry and in the American Poetry Anthology.”

“Poetry is my soul’s hobby and engineering is my mind’s hobby. I designed high accuracy position sensors for major space and defense programs, such as The Hubble Telescope, International Space Station, Mars Reconnaissance Orbiter, Mars Atmosphere and Volatile Evolution, surveillance satellites—SBIRS Program, and Abrams and Bradley tanks.”

“Paradoxically, poetry and science meet under the auspices of creativity. I am fascinated by the carving of the aerial marble of words and numbers to create a micro-universe, to energize it, and to be overwhelmed by its multiplied power and vision. A good poem, a good tool, is a work of love and belief.”

“My soul and mind are unified by enlightened words and numbers. I write and count, therefore I am. Designer of soulful bytes.”
