About the Authors

Caleb Green is just a small-town southern boy raised on the three values: faith, family, and football. He moved to Florence, Alabama, when he was thirteen years old.

Caleb's family has been a big part of his life. His dad taught him how to work hard and how to grow and mature in his faith. His mom taught him how to cook and do laundry, along with several other things that most teenagers don't know how to do. His sister taught him a lot of life's hard lessons because she went through them first. His beautiful and wonderful girlfriend helped give him the inspiration to continue working on the book and getting it where he wanted it to be. His family helped grow and shape him in more ways than he can mention. They also helped him in the process of creating this book and shaping his ideals and passions.

Simple Writings of a Student Athlete is a 66-page paperback with a retail price of $11.00. The ISBN is 978-1-4809-8420-2.
