

Detroit, MI Author Publishes Children's Book

In This Kids Book Two Girls Discover a Secret Society in Trouble – And Only They Can Save It!

The Boogiekids, a new book by Barbara A. Colbert, has been released by Dorrance Publishing Co., Inc.

Growing up, children are often easily intrigued and their curiosity can get the best of them. Especially growing up in a large, spacious house. After being forbidden by the adults to go into the basement of their home, Bubble and Toot discover themselves exploring the mysterious space after being forced to stay inside one summer day. In the basement, they discover a secret society that can only be saved by the two girls. Will they be able to save it or is this all one big dream?

About the Author

Barbara A. Colbert was born in the city of Philadelphia. She has been a passionate writer for the past 45 years. She is a published poet and contributing writer for a monthly newspaper in the city of Detroit. Colbert has also written biographies and other non-fiction articles for private or social publication and has recently composed a compilation of inspirational stories, poetry, and anecdotes in preparation for publication.

The Boogiekids is a 50-page hardcover with a retail price of $20.00. The ISBN is 978-1-4809-8625-1. It was published by Dorrance Publishing Co., Inc of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. For more information, or to request a review copy, please go to our virtual pressroom at www.dorrancepressroom.com or our online bookstore www.bookstore.dorrancepublishing.com.