

St. Michael, MN Author Publishes Children's Book

In This Illustrated Kids Book Kangaroos Play with Shapes So Young Readers can Learn Trigonometry

Vale and Zeta Playing with Shapes, a new book by Valerie Fotso, has been released by RoseDog Books.

Vale and Zeta Playing with Shapes is geared for children. The book describes and illustrates kangaroo characters playing with shapes. It demonstrates the structures of the shapes and how the areas of these shapes are calculated mathematically.

This book is filled with demonstrations, illustrations, humorous story lines, and practical things we do in our everyday life. Individuals of all ages will enjoy reading this book.

It is filled with images to aid in the narrative. Numbers and shapes are used for deriving trigonometry functions and results.

About the Author

Valerie Fotso writes children's books for all ages. She is an educational specialist professional substitute who has found an interest in writing children's books. The material in Vale and Zeta Playing with Shapes covers trigonometry and math that enrich readers to science inclination at an early age. Fotso is happily married and has twin boys. She lives in the Midwest with her family and enjoys the four seasons. She enjoys outdoor games as well. Her background of studies is engineering and she has fallen in love with graphic arts design.

Vale and Zeta Playing with Shapes is an 80-page paperback with a retail price of $31.00. The ISBN is 978-1-4809-7962-8. It was published by RoseDog Books of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. For more information, or to request a review copy, please go to our virtual pressroom at www.dorrancepressroom.com or our online bookstore at www.rosedogbookstore.com.